Everyone has a story to define who they are
It's about blue skies and it's about tears
Every picture tells a story
"The Old Man and The Sea" nurtures you and me
Alexander The Great and Temujin, men among man!

Chorus:

And this is our story
We come from the ocean
We come from mountains
We come from no man's land

And now we are here
Separating the noise from the sound
Spraying your body, mind and soul

Music:

Julius Caesar was wearing a grass crown
When Brutus came with a knife
It was about hatred, it was about love
It was about the glittering of gold, whoa
Well, Mahatma Gandhi brought England to her knees
What a simple man with great humanity, yeah!

Chorus:

And this is our story
We come from the ocean
We come from mountains
We come from no man's land

And now we are here
Separating the noise from the sound
Spraying your body, mind and soul

Music:

Chorus:

And this is our story
We come from the ocean
We come from mountains
We come from no man's land

We ain't Kant of Philosophy
We are just ordinary men
We've got no cents
You know we won't make history

And now we are here
Separating the noise from the sound
Spraying your body, mind and soul
Your body, mind and soul
