

Celebration of Birth

Words by Eric Martoyo; Music by Rustam Effendy & Eric Martoyo; Arranged by Fadhil Indra

Welcome my little baby
Welcome to the universe
A wonderful playground
It's green and clean

Breathe in and feel the air
Open your eyes and see the sky
Crawl, crawl, my baby crawl

Chorus:

Stand up my love
Take your very first steps
You will grow up and be strong

The world is waiting for your contribution
I know you're gonna make your move
And they'll be proud of you

Music:

And when you grow up baby
The real world will come to you
You'll see suffering and hunger
Betrayal and much more

War, war, war, baby
The worst thing you can imagine
They say it's about justice
It's a lie, baby

Chorus:

Stand up my love
Take your very first steps
You will grow up and be strong

The world is waiting for your contribution
I know you're gonna make your move
And they'll be proud of you

Music:

Seeking knowledge from the scholars
Searching wisdom from Gautama
The magical words of Khalil Gibran
And the spirit of The Rising Sun

(Welcome my little baby)

Welcome to the universe

(Welcome to the universe)

The world is wonderful

(A wonderful playground)

Baby, yeah, yeah

(It's green and clean)

Breathe in and feel the air
Open your eyes and see the sky
Crawl, crawl, my baby crawl

Stand up my love
Take your very first steps
You will grow up and you will be strong

The world is waiting for your contribution
I know you're gonna make your move
And they'll be proud of you
(They'll be proud of you)
